Reviewing the "End of the Middle Ages," "Peasant's War in England," led by Wat Tyler and John Ball of Kent, thence proceeding to the "Breaking Up of Serfdom in 1350," she showed the condition of "Free Work-men Under the Guilds" and the "Foun-dation of the Present Middle (Passes)" men Under the Guilds" and the "Foundation of the Present Middle Classes."
"The Thirst for Learning Created by Finding of Greek Manuscripts" and the "Art of Printing Discovered," closed the paper. The foregoing was followed by a reading by Mrs. Farr from Spencer's "Education," involving the question that education should be directed to a scientific rather than to a classical course. Speculation as to the Cause of the Good Showing-Market Becomes Active and Strong-Demand For

Securities During the Week Embraced the Whole List. New York, March 31.-Wall street was treated to an agreeable surprise today in an unexpectedly favorable bank statement. The most sanguine preliminary estimate of the gain in Federated club, and also of the annual meeting from April to October. These points were discussed, but no action was taken.

Mrs. Georgie Snow Carleton, who was appointed at the last meeting to was appointed at the last meeting to visit the managers of the city and ask that earlier slores of the city and ask that earlier as well as begin to the scenery along the Thames as well as depicting some of the historical events which have occurred upon its banks was read by Mrs. Sloan. than would be indicated in the bare figures of excess of recelpts over shipments on the interior movement.

It would be by some such process that the new bank notes will displace the legal tenders in actual circulation, and thus make them available for reserve purposes of the banks. Another possible explanation of the increase in cash is that loans have been paid off in cash. The loan item shows that the new demand on the banks for stock market operations and for April 1 setcient cities in the paper given by Miss Whalen. The famous city and seat of learning, Helisopolis, containing the Temple of the Sun and wonderful obe-lisk, Memphis, with its pyramids, and Thebes, once the most magnificent city of Egypt, and now full of ancient ruins, was the subject of the paper. The description of these cities was most scholarly and enjoyable. tements has more than offset the liquidation of loans for holding government bonds designed to use as security for note issues. The result is a loan expansion of $3,280,900.

Had it not been for the unexpected ly large gain in cash the increase in reserve requirements this involved would have made an inroad upon the Surplus. It was some fear of this stock market. The same feeling was perceptible to some extent in the early trading today, but it gave way to the remewed buying demand, especially for the iron and steel stocks, and after the publication of the bank statement the strength became general and the market closed active and strong at substantial net gains all through the list. The bears in Sugar were relieved from their panic of yesterday by the assertions of officials of the company that the sugar war. was still on. But professional traders handled new short contracts in Sugar in a gingerly manner. The stock dipped four points at the opening, but did not get within more than a point of as low as that again and rose at one time a fraction above yesterday's high level. The stock was very feverish and erratic all day. People's Gas was strong on reports of the absorption of the Ogden company and failed to yield on denials of that report.

There has been an active demand for securities during the whole week which is securities duri manner, which was much enjoyed. Mrs. A. P. Bigelow and Mrs. Gideon responded to toasts with sentiments appropriate to Mrs. Adams' paper, and interesting meeting on Thursday after-noon, March 29, with Mrs. Thompson as hostess. The programme in full was well prepared. "French Industries" being the principal topic, proved very interesting, one and all having a voice in the discussions. The paper on "Industrial Education," by Mrs. Smith, added much to the programme. On account of American operators who use the London market in preference to New York, for reasons best known to themselves. In the industrial list the immediate causes of weakness have been the gloomy forebodings emitted by the president of the American Sugar Refining company of the prospective reduction in dividends, necessitated by destructive trade competition and the heavy valuations for taxation placed upon New York public franchises. That so well intrenched and so long successful an industrial combination as the sugar company should officially admit that competition had desprived its business of any profit, gave a check to the confidence of holders of stocks in other industrial combination to prevent or defeat new and destructive competition. The squeeze of the shorts in Sugar did not dissipate this sentiment.

At the At the At Club and the At the At the At road systems, the activity in the main has been unusually well distributed. The stocks of industrial corporations have not shared in the strength of railroads, but have, on the contrary, reflected pressure to sell until the shorts were driven to cover later in the week. Those which have shown the greatest weakness have been affected by special causes, but the tone of the industrials generally showed that they are believed.
